Luke 12:16-21 –

12:20 – Whose will those things be which you have provided? Is the key to understanding the saving up of materials goods. Saint John Chrysostom writes that the only barns we need we already have: "the stomachs of the poor." Saint Basil the Great taught that the bread in our cupboard belongs to the hungry man; the coat hanging unused belongs to the one who needs it; the shoes rotting in our closet belong to the one who has no shoes; and the money we hoard belongs to the poor. Saint Ambrose teaches, "The things which we cannot take with us are not ours. Only virtue will be our companion when we die.” Even when Joseph stored up grain in Egypt (Genesis 41), it was for the benefit of the whole nation. These teachings apply to parishes as well as to each person.

RECTORY OFFICE HOURS are 10 A.M. to 4 P.M. Monday thru Friday.

EMERGENCY SICK CALLS can be made anytime. Please notify your Pastor when someone is taken to the hospital; Sacred Scriptures remind us to call the presbyter to anoint the sick.

MARRIAGES are celebrated on Saturdays and Sundays. Consult the Pastor at least 6 months in advance and before wedding reception plans have been made. Marriages cannot be celebrated during Lent or Advent, or on Fridays.

BAPTISMS are scheduled on Saturdays and Sundays at 11 A.M. Two God-parents are required; at least one of whom must be an Orthodox Christian by Faith, and the other a practicing Christian. An infant’s first or middle name must be a saint’s name.

CHURCH FUNERALS are provided for parishioners who are current in their spiritual and financial obligations to the Parish. Otherwise, burial is from the funeral home. The Church does not permit cremation.

PROCRASTINATION

By Abbot Tryphon of The Morning Offering

There is a story of a young monk who confessed to his elder that he was always struggling with procrastination. His elder told him his lack of faith made it impossible for him to see God everywhere and in all things, and for this reason he was careless and lazy about everything having to do with his salvation.

The Apostle Paul said, “My (Christ’s) grace is sufficient for you, for My strength is made perfect in weakness.’ Therefore most gladly I will rather boast of my infirmities, that the power of Christ may rest upon me” (2 Cor. 12:9). In our weakness, we tend to put things off, especially those things that pertain to our salvation. We know the importance of keeping a prayer rule, of spending time each day with the reading of Holy Scriptures, and of being productive in our spiritual lives. We know the importance of frequent church attendance, yet we put it off. Tomorrow, we tell ourselves, will be the day we will begin to take our spiritual life seriously. Tomorrow we will set our priorities – and keep to them. But tomorrow never comes.

Let me be clear that I am not addressing the form of procrastination caused by depression, as depression and procrastination often go hand in hand. I am referring to laziness but also to fear of failure, in which we fear we will not be good enough at a task at hand, so we put it off.

We only need to take that first step, remembering, “I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me” Phil. 4:13. Procrastination has power over our lives only if we let it.

Procrastination stands in the way as we combat habitual sins that keep us from making spiritual progress. It can keep us from reconciling with family members or friends who’ve been estranged for years. It can keep us from making a good confession, thus unburdening ourselves of guilt that has been weighing us down.

THREE WAYS TO KEEP THE FEAST OF THE ENTRY OF THE BIRTH-GIVER OF GOD INTO THE TEMPLE AT HOME...

Dedicate this day to God. As we celebrate the Virgin Mary fully dedicating her life to God on this day, we are provided with an opportunity to do the same. Perhaps we are not going to go and live in the church all day, but maybe instead of watching television or playing video games we can make an extra effort to pray more, or read from the Sacred Scriptures or another spiritual book.

Do something at your church. When Mary was in the Temple, each day she worked cleaning and performing other tasks. On this day, you could try to think of something you could do to help at church. You may not be able to do it this day for one reason or another but you could call your priest and let him know you would like to help clean, or work at a fundraiser, or do something during services you have not done before, such as read the Third Hour or chant the Epistle.

Consider your vocation in the Church. This is a good day to consider your vocation with the Church. Remember, this goes beyond, potentially, becoming a priest, monk, or nun. In the Orthodox Church, we all have a shared vocation to become saints (Romans 1:7), to be holy as God is holy (2 Peter 1:15), and to be perfect as our heavenly Father is perfect (Matthew 5:48). Some will be sanctified in the married life, some will be single, some will be clergy or monastic, and others will be laity. Some may work physically, others intellectually, as artists, scientists, business people, or professionals. Whatever line of work, as

His Grace, Bishop Gregory has shared repeatedly with the young people of our Diocese, "Be the best Orthodox Christian in your field."
